Heavy is the heart.
That reaches out in Vain.
And tears itself apart.
And runs back for the same.

And many of the sounds
That only go unheard, but when that
Bodies gone we just both will sing along
And we'll know every word.
And out in the yard, odds will be shook
And we'll laugh at all the chances we took

Chorus...
God you can rack yourself
You can call me names
You can swear I'm sick I'm the one
To blame.
You can raise your voice
You can roll your eyes
Honey I'll still love you anytime

Because there's no other place
That I would rather be
Cause when I look at you
You look right back at me
So please don't be upset and
Please don't be alarmed.
We'll take you to the west,
The place that I love best and it'll be
In your arms.

And out in the yard, odds will be shook
And we'll laugh at all the chances we took
And won't it be great, yes won't it be good
I will thank God
That wasn't so hard.

Chorus...

God you can rack yourself
You can call me names

You can swear I'm sick, I'm the one to blame.
You can raise your voice
You can roll your eyes
Honey I'll still love you anytime

You can hate yourself you can run and hide
Honey I'll still love you anytime
Yeah...
The earth can shake, and the rain can fall
But I won't be sad cause I...
Love- there's nothing you could ever do to get me to Say Good bye...

Aahhh aahhh aahhh aahhh aahhh
Aahhh aahhh aaahhh aahhh aahhh
Ahhh yeah...

Chorus...
You can rack yourself
You can call me names
You can swear I'm sick I'm the one
To blame.
You can raise your voice
You can roll your eyes
Honey I'll still love you everytime

You can tell your friend that I am just a mess
You can stomp your feet
You can beat your chest
You can hate yourself, you can run and hide
Honey, I'll still love you anytime.

Anytime...
Anytime...
Anytime...
Anytime...
