So independent and I am a descendent of this restless
nature,
So afraid of failure that my only existence is my constant resistance.
Try to hide my weakness, I'm always running

(Chorus)

But You keep Your eye on me.
You won't let me, won't let me run away,
And wrap myself up in my own pity,
And wallow in my own self destructive ways.
But I'm still running.

Always a struggle inside trying to juggle all these
messed up feelings,
I don't know what's real and what's not.
I'm always hiding inside, I'm always fighting trying to hide my weakness.
I'm always running.
