You're hanging at the doorway
But someone else at my place
You want to see if I cry over you, baby
I'm only disappointed; I thought that you could talk through
And now I see that I'm your yesterday

"There's no tomorrow
can't you see of my sorrow?
There's just tonight, just tonight.
There's no tomorrow
You're sleeping away
Into the morning light"

You think that I'm for granted
That when you say: I obey
I don't know where you figured that for me, baby
You don't control me at all
I make my way through the day
But I give a second chance, if you agree, hey hey

"There's no tomorrowâ€¦!"

You make me wrong with the fire in your eyes
you make me so wrong
now you have to realize

"There's no tomorrowâ€¦!" x2

Why?
Baby tell me
I
Baby why?
Tell me.
