She'll never say that she loves me
It's an inside joke between us
That I made up all by my lonesome
Cus it's clear I'm just not good enough
But these paper thin walls are out to get me
Cus my conversations bleed straight through them
So all my friends can hear how f***** lonely
I am and how lonely I have been
Tell me how are things going since you moved
Tell me how Colorado is
Cus I'm stuck down in Texas wondering if
Writing lovesongs about you is still healthy
And it has been two years too long
I've just been busy writing more songs
And filling my lungs up with smoke
To try and forget you
But I don't wanna forget you anymore
I hear the north can get a little frigid
But I think that you will fit right in
With a pack of smokes and a heart made out of pretense
The only way to get by is to pretend
Tell me how are things going since you moved
Tell me how Colorado is
Cus I'm stuck down in Texas wondering if
Writing lovesongs about you is still healthy
And it has been two years too long
I've just been busy writing more songs
And filling my lungs up with smoke
To try and forget you
Remember when you house burned down
And all you did was laugh
That's when I knew this wouldn't last
You said that's life
What else can we do but laugh
That's when I knew this wouldn't last
That's when I knew this wouldn't last
That's when I knew this wouldn't last
That's when I knew that nothing lasts
