Between the left wing and the right wing you'd think that

This puppy would fly
They've invaded your password
Your bathroom stalls
Music and computer files

So go, take
One good last look at America
It might not be there
For too long

So go and take
One good last look at America

The decisions of a few
Effect the problems of the multitude
Know which way to look
Know you have the right to choose
What is good and what is just
From things that we've said
The world is on fire
And you insist on throwing gasoline

So go, take
One good last look at America
And it might not be there
For too long

So go, take
One good last look at America
It might not be there
For too long

For too long
Too long
For too long

So go, take
One good last look at America
So go, take
One good last look at America

Take a look at America, yeah
Take a look at America
Take a look at America, yeah
Take a look at America
America
America
America
