One bad night I'll hold the glass until the glass can hold
me down,
And one bad night I'll spill and spill until my feet begin to drown.
One bad night I'll hear you calling me to help you not pass out.

You and I, divine but not devout,
Every night my teeth are falling out.

Try it, try it, try it,
Try it, try it, try it, try it,
Get your jaw off the floor.

Try it, try it, try it,
Try it, try it, try it, try it,
Get your jaw off the floor.

One dumb night I'll make a point to take an old
verboten route,
And one dumb night I'll take you out, to the bar we've both blacked out.
One dumb night two bad decisions don't divide to cancel out.

You and I, divorced but not devout,
Every night my teeth are falling out.

Every night my teeth are falling out.

Try it, try it, try it,
Try it, try it, try it, try it,
Get your jaw off the floor.
