One bad night I'll hold the glass until the glass can hold me down
And one bad night I'll spill and spill until my feet begin to drown
And one bad night I'll hear you calling to help you not pass out

You and I divine but not devout
Every night my teeth are falling out

Try, try, try, try, try, try, try to gain control of the floor
Try, try, try, try, try, try, try to gain control of the floor

One dumb night I'll make a point to take an verboten route
One dumb night I'll take you out to the bar we both blacked out One dumb night to bad two decisions don't divide to cancel out

You and I divorced but not devout
Every night my teeth are falling out
Every night my teeth are falling out

Try, try, try, try, try, try, try to gain control of the floor
Try, try, try, try, try, try, try to gain control of the floor
Try, try, try, try, try, try, try to gain control of the floor
Try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try,
Try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try, try to gain control
Of the floor
Try, try, try, try, try, try, try to gain control of the floor
Try, try, try, try, try every night my teeth are falling out
