When your heart is broken
For the third time in a row
You think it's all over
The final curtain
Of the final show

But then love comes by for you again
It takes away your worries
And it takes you by the hand
And it will never let you down

Evi I love you
And I want you
Here tonight

Picking up the pieces
Is a nightmare when you're all alone
Crawling through the darkness
Selfdestructing
Feelings never shown

But the sun comes up
Another day
And it will shine on you
In a very special way
And it will always keep you warm

Evi I love you
And I want you
Here tonight

I never really got to thank you
For the time we spent together
And I'm sorry it's all over
But it doesn't really matter
Anymore because if you and me
Were really meant to be
Then one day we will kiss again
You'll see
