In the moonlight I see my memories
In a new light, they seem so real to me
I remember, you know I remember

And the starlight tripping in the sky
Come on, we can still go there tonight
I remember, you know I remember

We haven't changed
We just feel a little strange
We haven't changed
We're just a little bit deranged

In the moonlight I think about the past
And in hindsight, I knew it wouldn't last
I remember, you know I remember

And the starlight skipping on the bay
Come on, we can still go there today
I remember, you know I remember

We haven't changed
We just feel a little strange
We haven't changed
We're just a little bit deranged

In the moonlight I see my memories
I realize I need you here with me
I remember, you know I remember

We haven't changed
We just feel a little strange
We haven't changed
We're just a little bit deranged
