Treated like a dog, pushed until you fall.
It's building up but soon you'll break
You should scream and shout
But when you open your mouth.
No one hears the sounds you make.

You'll try and make it through the day.
They'll regret it is all you ever say...

You're hanging on
All you need is a shoulder to cry on.
Until you're gone
Away from us all.

And you can't go on.
With so little pride.
And a motto that claims life sucks.
It's the end of the ride.
It burns you up inside.
But you just don't give a f*ck

You'll try and make it through the day.
They'll regret it is all you ever say...

You're hanging on
All you need is a shoulder to cry on.
Until you're gone
Away from us all.

You'll try and make it through the day.
They'll regret it is all you ever say...

You're hanging on
All you need is a shoulder to cry on.
Until you're gone
Away from us all.

You're letting go.
All you need is someone to rely upon
Until you're gone, away from us all
