I can feel a fire starting and I think it's lost control
I can feel her eyes burning through me
With a steady, steady hand she'll try to take it all

Take cover, oh. Take cover
I hold my head as I hit the floor
No wonder, doubt she'll go under
She'll stop at nothing, just to say that she wants more

I'm over my head much more than I've been
And I can't let her in, she's more than I need
Remember to breathe whenever she's surrounding me

She works so mysteriously, she's always testing me
Just to see if I will ever break down
Tear me apart, yeah, from seam to seam

Take cover, oh. Take cover
I hold my head as I hit the floor
No wonder, doubt she'll go under
She'll stop at nothing, just to say that she wants more

I'm over my head much more than I've been
And I can't let her in, she's more than I need
Remember to breathe whenever she's surrounding me

I'm over my head much more than I've been
And I can't let her in, she's more than I need
Remember to breathe whenever she's surrounding me

Take cover, oh, take cover
Take cover, oh, take cover

I'm over my head much more than I've been
And I can't let her in, she's more than I need
Remember to breathe when she's surrounding me

I'm over my head much more than I've been
And I can't let her in, she's more than I need
Remember to breathe whenever she's surrounding me

I'm over my head much more than I've been
And I can't let her in, she's more than I need
Remember to breathe whenever she's surrounding me
