She should have looked the other way
The signal changed, direction fades
And we believed in every word we (saw)
Every time I check, everywhere we go
The more we learn the less we know

But for now, but for now, but for now
Put your big ideas down
Let's have one, let's have one, let's have one
More night together, to get over ourselves

Try to remember how far we've come
Before we get so far that nothing can be done
And I forgot what we were driving towards
Every turn we take, every fork in the road
The more we learn the less we know

But for now, but for now, but for now
Put your big ideas down
Let's have one, let's have one, let's have one
More night together, to get over ourselves

But for now, but for now, but for now
Put your big ideas down
Let's have one, let's have one, let's have one
More night together, to get over ourselves

I had some answers, the wrong directions
I had some questions, the right intentions
I had some answers, the wrong directions
I had some questions, the right intentions

But for now, but for now, but for now
Put your big ideas down
Let's have one, let's have one, let's have one
More night together, to get over ourselves

But for now, but for now, but for now
Put your big ideas down
Let's have one, let's have one, let's have one
More night together, to get over ourselves
