

The Automatic

"Sleepwalking"

Visit "Sleepwalking" on MotoLyrics.com

Nineteen years gone away the kids have grown up these trains don't run any more how the view from the windows changed on mobile phones people talk and talk do we all complain to much?

you'd see so much more of the world today if you'd taken to sleepwalking the last thing that you'd heard must of been all change, all change

Time travelling makes an antique of yourself the curtains pulled wide unveiling of a museum piece small price to pay small price to pay, for this theme of choice

you'd see so much more of the world today
if you'd taken to sleepwalking
the last thing that you'd heard must of been
all change, all change

out of date in the right place at the wrong time stolen, taken away out of place out of place but a lucky escape rescued at last

you'd see so much more of the world today
if you'd taken to sleepwalking
the last thing that you'd heard must of been
all change, all change

Visit The Automatic page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.