All my life I have learned
To say goodbye
But it still hurts
Are we defined by what we hold?

But armor breaks
And fire burns
On the way to lessons learned
Thoughts escape just like it burned...

Off into the moonlight
I need to give this broken heart away
So I close my eyes...

And wish you the goodbye,
That I had hoped I'd never have to say
I'll miss your smile

Oh, this may take more then a little while

And you know I'm no good
At chasing things that I should
Another rain though I broke.[?]

I never told you how much
That you gave to me, but
I know you know
And that's enough

Off into the moonlight
I need to give this broken heart away
So I close my eyes

And wish you the goodbye,
That I had hoped I'd never have to say
I'll miss your smile

Oh, this may take more then a little while.
