Not guilty

For getting in your way, while you try to steal the day

Not guilty

I'm not nodding for the rest, I'm not trying to steal you vest

I end up trying to be smart I only want what I can get

I'm really sorry for your aging head, but like you heard me said

Not guilty

Though you signing me a writ, while I'm trying to do my bit

I don't expect to take your hoard I only want what I can get

I'm really sorry that you're underfed, but like you heard me said

Not guilty

Not guilty

For looking like a freak, making friends with every Sikh

Not guilty

For leading you astray, on the road to Mandalay

I won't upset the apple cart I only want what I can get

I'm really sorry that you've been misled, but like you heard me said

Not guilty
