

The Becoming "Heaven Isn't So Far"

Your eyes are an invitation for sugar-coated pain
How sweet now is this kiss if bitterness remains?
My body's gotten colder since I felt your touch
I wish I could remember
I can never get enough
Heaven isn't so far 'cause I can taste it on your lips
tonight
Heaven isn't so far now (but Hell is getting close)
Heaven isn't so far 'cause I can taste it on your lips
tonight
Heaven isn't so far now
Your voice sounds like the sirens calling out my name
But could I be mistaken, could I be to blame?
Could I be forgiven, or would I be forgotten?
God, you know how hard I've prayed
Though it seems I'm still the same
If I could ask just one thing, could you take this world away?
