We drive into the city with the top down
Unafraid of what my lie ahead
As the sun creeps behind the darkest clouds
There's no consequence being oh-so wreckless
There's nothing like the thrill of cheating death
We can't outrun all that we've done now
We have fallen in the dark
This is the night that has no morning
We are on the move
This is the end that has no warning
I can't see you, but I see the truth
This is the night that has no morning
We have lived our lives inside the shadows
As the moon is drifting far away
It's the night now, and there's no more day
Dance with me until the darkness ends
Hold me 'til the saints come marching in
Dance with me until the darkness ends
Hold me 'til the saints come.
