I kissed the death of our hearts today
Now I'm addicted to the way it tastes
Can you feel it setting in?
This world it gets so cold sometimes
It's you that makes me feel this way
I can't help you, I can't begin to explain
Tell me if it's wrong
Can we take it?
To be holding on
Can we make it?
Can we make it through this endless night
There's a piece of you haunting me
Every street became a memory
And I've been losing hope in love
Our scars may never heal with time
I cannot bare the thought of having loved and lost
And waking up each day knowing that something's gone
My world is closing in
Oh, what a deadly kiss
But love can still survive under the full eclipse.
