Look at me tell me what you see
Am i everything i'm meant to be
How can you breathe next to me
Airs so hard to find when you're with me

I'm leaving you behind
I'm going all alone
And this is what it's like to be on your own

I can't see this time
Stars have left your eyes
Falling down to words that i left behind

It's not me this time
I'm not in your sky
Only difference is that i don't mind

How can i see without you guiding me
To point my life where i'm supposed to be
Where will i be where you can set me free
Those eyes they lie but they don't lie to me

I'm leaving you behind
I'm going all alone
And this is what it's like to be on your own

I can't see this time
Stars have left your eyes
Falling down to words that i left behind

It's not me this time
I'm not in your sky
Only difference is that i don't mind

How do i stop it's been so bad
Maybe it's time i can go back home
Good intentions only go so far

I can't see this time
Stars have left your eyes
Falling down to words that i left behind

It's not me this time
I'm not in your sky
Only difference is that i don't mind
