Don't know my name
Don't know what we feel
Alone, with no ideas
Don't know where we are
Don't know my name
All alone
Upon the see

The crow have abandon me
Captain rest under the flood
There is nobody
On the pontoon bridge

The horizon, entirely blue is all around me
I stand here watching all, around me
I wake up in a patch of mist
I couldn't know
I wouldn't find the direction
The exit

This is the darkest
See I've ever seen

This darkness wist
Is blinding me
But I don't sleep
I'm awake
From this mess
I'm awake
Out from shame
I'm awake

I break the rudder
Mast is craking
