"Without You"

When you want somebody talking sweet romance
And you know what side of you there is no chance
Listen to your lonely heart
Just imagine what you are
All you need is someone to believe

Without you, without you
I can't forget your love
I'm still without you, without you
I can't believe you're gone
I can't survive it without you. I can't forget your love
I'm still without you, without you.
Live without your love

When you want somebody crying out for pain
And you want to get your anger out again
Listen to your soul inside
Just imagine what you want
All you need is someone to believe
