So much work are some stories
Sometimes they just hide themselves
So much work to say I'm sorry
When it feels like I'm talking to myself
She said her love for me was dying
Before it's gone I feel
I should be gone too

And I'll think on it
Ahh but not tonight
Pass another won't you
Keep me thinking I'm alright

Search is on for the darkness
Or the night that has no end
I never hoped with this loneliness
To find a true and everlasting friend
Cuz when I feel that something matters
Then I know that I'm not far enough gone

And I'll think on it
Ahh but not tonight
Pass another won't you
Keep me thinking I'm alright

Now when I feel that something matters
Then I know I'm not far enough gone

And I'll think on it
Ahh but not tonight
Pass another won't you
Keep me thinking I'm alright

So I'll think on it
Ahh but not tonight
Pass another won't you
Keep me thinking I'm alright

Whoa and I'll think on it oooawww
