Where have you been...
And what have you done with them?
We've lost all that we know...
And forever is losing it's ring...

You've taken the light out of this room...
And now I'm begging for a way out...

Breaking down the walls of regret...
And I know that this could mean the end...
Cause scientists couldn't fix this mess...
So scream oh...

And these are the things I say to sink you...
And never forget, that this is who we are...
But our time wasn't now...

This could mean the end...
Where have you been...
