I can see the way you're looking at her
I can tell you're makin' plans
But I know the woman waiting home for you
And she would never understand
Cause she's given you the best of her love
And there's no reason why that's not enough

I'm not tryin' to tell you what to do
You could lose your love, the way I lost mine
It's the chance you take
When the choice you make
Is steppin' out, givin' in love's on the line

Once I had a true love like yours
She was everything any man could need
Like a fool, I went looking for more
Till she had enough of me
I played the cheatin' game no one ever wins
Now I'd give anything to have her back again

I'm not tryin' to tell you what to do
You could lose your love, the way I lost mine
It's the chance you take
When the choice you make
Is steppin' out, givin' in love's on the line

I'm not tryin' to tell you what to do
You could lose your love, the way I lost mine
It's the chance you take
When the choice you make
Is steppin' out, givin' in love's on the line
