

The Breakup "Now Or Never"

Pick up, let's disconnect the dots
'Cause everything's crashing down
I'm not sure where to stop
We can disappear tommorrow
Turn off the lights, with no forwarding address

And never looking back on how we made it
Never looking back on what we left behind
Bring back tomorrow but not to start over

We thought that it could last forever
Even when they said we must be wrong
'Cause in the end it's now or never
The stars will lead us right where we belong
Searching for an answer
When everything familiar is gone
'Cause in the end it's now or never
But we can say we knew it all along
(This time I just can't let this go)

Eavesdrop on harmonizing words
Dissonate memories and unexpected turns
We've never stopped to listen to words of wisdom
At least we got this far
