Inconsequently you were always there to save me
But I don't think that you ever knew
Without a reason, if you could you'd change the season
Putting light over this eerie sky

And I've seen it now
And I've seen the essence of all your lies in a compromise

And promise me that you will never leave for eternity
Because a second without you is far too long
And when they tried to keep us down we held our heads up high
Only the fools will rush right in when they're wrong

Lets turn in all our stars for the night and Let's hope that all our wishes turn out high and right
Just believe in me that's all you need forever

And I've seen it now
And I've seen the essence of all your lies in a

And promise me that you will never leave for eternity
Because a second without you is far too long
And when they tried to keep us down we held our
heads up high
Only the fools will rush right in when they're wrong

Just stand by me
And you will see
We'll fight them off
We'll carry on

So let's just run away before we lose our taste
I am so sick of this place and everyone

And promise me that you will never leave for eternity
Because a second without you is far too long
And when they tried to keep us down we held our
heads up high
Only the fools will rush right in when they're wrong
