Just today I saw you smile
And it took me back to yesterday
You still move me like you did
When you read me with your eyes that way
Haven't seen you for a while
Father Time must be a friend of yours
You still take my breath away
Do I really have to say
How much I want you
(*) Just when I thought I was doin' alright
Sleepin' away almost half of the night
Now who
Who was the last one I needed to see
Just when I had most of my broken heart
Put back together to make a new start
Now I have to forget startin' over
I'm still not over you
I was calm as I could be
As the feelings all came back again
What I was supposed to do
Treat you like a stranger or a friend

I'm not wise in things of heart

I'm not one of those who knows the moves

I was hangin' by a thread

Hangin' on each word you said

To hear I love you

Repeat (*)
