Little Joanna's got big blue eyes
Coconut cream and coffee colored thighs
I could die lying in her arms
Where castles are made of sand
We start to dance
But only the music is bleating and crickets replace the band

[CHORUS:]

She will always be my sunkissed trampoline,
She goes up and down in my heart,
Turned into jelly beans
And i'm starting to believe that danger's never near,
When Joanna is here.

Little Joanna's like a lazerbeam sky.
Gluteous maximus like a firefly
And That's why i'm kissaphobic
When cellulite dreams are made, like lemonade,
But when the shivers are salty and seafoam's the colour of space.

[CHORUS:]

She will always be my sunkissed trampoline,
She goes up and down in my heart,
Turned into jelly beans,
And I'm starting to believe that danger's never near,
When Joanna is here.

God, I love Joanna
But she don't understand much
I love it when our hands touch
Knowing that I'm near

Apple-flavored lip gloss
Achillies wear a necklace
Feeling young and reckless
When Joanna is here

Little Joanna's got big blue eyes
I could die lying in her arms

Where castles are made of sand
We start to dance
But only the music is bleating and crickets replace the band

[CHORUS:]

She will always be my sunkissed trampoline,
She goes up and down in my heart,
Turned into jelly beans
And i'm starting to believe that danger's never near,
When Joanna is here.

When Joanna is here.
Sunkissed trampoline.
When Joanna is here.
Up and down in my heart.
When Joanna is here.
When Joanna is here.
Sunkissed trampoline.
When Joanna is here.
Up and down in my heart. x2

When Joanna is here.
Sun sun sun sun bum bum bum
Um bum sun bum sun.
