Well I wish I could write a love song for us,
But y'know everytime I just come out with the same old stuff
Like class war and workers rights

I find it so easy to say what is wrong, but not what is right

And what the fuck is wrong with me?
I can talk about changing society, but not about the things that affect you and me

I guess there's some irony in this, I'm failing to write these songs just like failing at past relationships
What a bunch of shit

So fuck it, I can still see,
That love is the highest of all equalities And maybe if we just loved a little bit more we wouldn't have this poverty and we wouldn't have this war Cause anarchy is freedom, and freedom is nothing without love
