

The Cavedogs

"What In The World?"

Visit "What In The World?" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm happy living like a boy in a plastic bubble
No one to wake me from the dead
I close the hatch on what I only guess is trouble
And pull the sheets above my head

(Chorus)

Roll me down duck and cover
Bolt my door to the wind
Watch me drown in the shallow water
Break my shell I'd probably melt away

No one is safer than a boy in a plastic bubble
No one to rake me from the shelf
I'd like to take a breath beyond this dust and rubble
And pull my head above the rail

(Chorus)

(Bridge)

Roll me over
(Bring the ceiling down)
Blow my cover
(Break my tainted crown)
Throw me to the wind
(Roll me over)
I might sink or swim but I won't bother you again

(Instrumental Break)

Roll me down duck and cover
Bolt my door to the wind
Watch me drown in the shallow water
Break my shell I'd probably melt away
Break my shell I'd probably melt away
Break my shell I'd probably melt away

(Indescribable background noises)

