Thought I knew what I want, busy chasing love, down a one-way street
I pushed it to the limit, even through all the traffic
Thought your love was what I needed for me

That's when I blew my horn, hoping he might here the beep
But I wasn't sure

Without a single warning, suddenly he was turning, now he noticed me
I guess the thrill was gone, I had a change of heart
Too late to change my speed

Baby we crash and I can't hit the brakes
I wanna slow down but I think it's too late
Love happened so fast, you seem like a mistake
I wanna pass but I'm going too fast
Baby we crash, love happened fast, but boy we crash

Wish that I saw a sign, but I was driving blind, thought I had control
I wanted love so bad, I didn't think to ask
Before I drove a hundred miles on this road

That's when I blew the horn, hoping he might here the beep
But I wasn't sure
We got so out of hand, love didn't go as planned, didn't like his style
But now the wheels were turning, cupid was Busy working
I couldn't slow things down

Baby we crash and I can't hit the brakes
I wanna slow down but I think it's too late
Love happened so fast, you seem like a mistake
I wanna pass but I'm going too fast
Baby we crash, love happened fast, but boy we crash
Baby we crash, love happened fast, but boy we crash

What was I thinking? what did I do?

All that I knew was, you seemed like you were cool
Where do we go now? was this all fake?
Wish I could turn back, but cupid stole the brakes
I found out too late

Baby we crash and I can't hit the brakes
I wanna slow down but I think it's too late
Love happened so fast, you seemed like a mistake
I wanna pass but I'm going too fast
(3x)

Baby We Crash

Baby we crash, love happened fast, but boy we crashed
