Put your pain aside
It's not the end of time
From where I'm standing
Come outside
Before you come undone
We'll take a drive
So you can breathe
The west coast wind tonight
Whispers under the starlight
Tomorrow's a new day
You've beat this before
And you can once more
'Cause you're not stranded
Kiss goodbye
The shadow you're under
And take some time
To get free
Before the morning breaks
We'll make a quick getaway
The pressure's been pushing down on you
Your mind can't make up what to do
It has been tugging at your sleeve
When all that you need
Is to be calm
When you feel it coming on
