Brother wont you come home
You've been away too long
I don't know where to find you
I don't know where've you gone

You were too young to remember
It happened in our sleep
A trusting hand that led you
Never waved goodbye to me

She cries and calls your name
And she can't stop the pain
Of a mothers only son
Mother's only son

Father can you see us
We've made it on our own
Turned his heart to stone

She cries and calls your name
And she can't stop the pain
Of a mothers only son
Mother's only son
Mother's only son

Brother can you hear me
We want you to come home
There's someone here that loves you
So more you never know
