This is the way the world turns Expect it to be laid out before you We strive to find a way, a way to survive This lesson we experience can only kill or make you immune to the unsacred lives we lead Death has no pity for any of us Outside this box you live in is an endless answer only few can see Bloodshed, pain, agony of failure has made us stronger than society itself Peresisting through all the piles of shit that is fed to us We walk on this path of disemboweled beings who lie on the stench filled path that they think brings happiness
This assembly line that is our suggested path of life Fight! We have to fight this conformity for the rest of our lives
We dont have all the answers, but we want all to know that we are ready for this fight Take the stand
Rise up with us as we take the stand
