This little boy like all the rest,
'Cause he knows just what to say (to him?).
He's never been put to the test,
'Cause he knows just where to find him.
All his life he's?
Ya know, he's never had no problems.
The house he lived in was so shitty
But she still kept them coming

And who's gonna pay the bills today,
And who's gonna turn the girls away,
And who's gonna make you feel OK,
And who's gonna take the pills today.

Yeah, you know it can't be me.
Yeah, you know it can't be me.

Sometimes I just feel too much and I don't wanna feel at all.

He said to his mother one day
"You know, mama? difference"
Said said son "You'll have to go, you know it's just too much to keep ya"
The day? as he walked down the road ya know his head
was full of sorrow.
Little did he know he'd never see his own home again.

And who's gonna pay the bills today,
And who's gonna turn the girls away,
And who's gonna make you feel OK,
And who's gonna take the pills today.

Yeah, you know it can't be me.
Yeah, you know it can't be me.

And, sometimes I just feel too much and I don't wanna feel at all.

He said to his friends "c'mon let's go, I'll take you to the shoulder"
He said "No, no. Look here my friend, you make me feel much older."

They left him alone sitting on the road.
You know, his head was full of marbles.
Little did he know he would never see the words he knew so well.

And who's gonna pay the bills today,
And who's gonna turn the girls away,
And who's gonna make you feel OK,
And who's gonna take the pills today.

Yeah, you know it can't be me.
Yeah, you know it can't be me.

And, sometimes I just feel too much and I don't wanna feel at all.
