1.verse:

United states of mind in troubled times
I couldn't find a better life, couldn't find my way inside
Laughter and sirens song, in here I belong
I couldn't tell right from wrong; where is this all coming from

I built a wall inside out of a lie
An now I'm comfortably blind to what goes on outside

chorus:

Here, in a world of my own
Everything's confused, harmlessly untrue
Here I can almost live and forget you
It is all unreal in this world of ideals
Even the illusions seem so clear

2.verse

So hard to understand an unstable man
But I'm doing all the best I can to leave this no-where land

Sorrows are easy to hide in states of mind
Then all of a sudden I'm fine and everything's alright

chorus:

Here, in a world of my own
Everything's confused harmlessly untrue
Here I can almost live and forget you
It is all unreal in this world of ideals
Even the illusions seem so clear

bridge:

But I still like it, maybe
Now and then
Life, not so crazy,
With any kind of sense
But only in here I get to see you again
And sometimes I feel you
And sometimes I meet the real you

chorus:

Love, everything's confused harmlessly untrue
Here I can almost live and forget you
It is all unreal in this world of ideals
Even the illusions seem so clear
