I got the power babe to make your heart melt Your weakness shines as you start screaming for help I'll get you back and turn your world all inside out You'll only waste your breath with every single scream and shout

You got greedy fine leave me alone and rot in your place

But when you're crawling on your knees for me I'll smash you in the face

A little harm on you gives me a new start Take back the blood that spilled when you broke my heart

I wanna make you know the meaning of my pain So I can see inside the fortune of playing this game

You got greedy fine leave me alone and rot in your place

But when you're crawling on your knees for me I'll smash you in the face

Ain't gonna let the this devil drag me down Gonna make sure that my blackened heart is found You will show me where you keep it of so safe and sound

So I can have it back and leave you in the ground

This shouldn't take long darlin' just close your eyes Let me take over feel the wrath of your cries By causing this I'll know exactly what you have gained So I can look right into you and say I feel the same

You got greedy fine leave me alone and rot in your place

But when you're crawling on your knees for me I'll smash you in the face

Just so happens you weren't my Mr. Right Best that you sleep with one eye open tonight

You'll come crawling... You'll come crawling...
