Before I fade into a dream
I will leave these kisses 3
One for love that dances in the fairy light,
One for the beautiful child enthroned,
And one for the angel whose eyes are my vision,
Whose wings though tattered shall carry me home...

Carry me home...
Carry me home...

Is there something I missed along the way?
Is there something I missed?
The first kiss
Is there something I missed along the way?
Is there something I missed?
The second kiss
Is there something I missed along the way?
Is there something I missed?
The third kiss...

I only ask you remember me
In a waking though, returned from sleep...
Before I fade into a dream
I will leave these...
Kisses 3
