"This Twillight Garden"

I lift my lips from kissing you to kiss the sky cloud soft and blue and slow the sun melts down into your golden words for me

I lift my hands from touching you to touch the wind that whispers through this twilight garden turns into a world where dreams are real

no-one will ever take your place
I am lost in you
no-one will ever take your place
so in love with you

I lift my eyes from watching you to watch the star rise shine onto your dreaming face and dreaming smile you're dreaming worlds
for me

and kiss the sky wide deepest blue and slow the moon swims up into your golden words

no-one will ever take your place
I am lost in you
no-one will ever take your place
