Here's a little more time on the dark bitter doubt Here's a past time cheater whose just moving out Here's a new direction we still haven't found There's a great myth trading your faith for a paper crown

Down low
It won't show
What you lose Ready to go?

Somewhere between nothing and something is everything Somewhere between darkness and wonder is every dream Somewhere between breaking and broke there's a song to sing
Somewhere between nothing and something is
everything

Here's the good advice that you preach without a sound
Here's a telephone call that was cheap and wore you down
Here's a losing streak and a fall to fill your doubt It's the same direction but still running out

Down low
It won't show
Was what you lost
Ready to go?

Somewhere between nothing and something is
everything
Somewhere between darkness and wonder is every
Somewhere between breaking and broke there's a
song to sing
Somewhere between nothing and something is
everything

Somewhere between nothing and something is

everything
Somewhere between nothing and something is
everything
