

The Dangerous Summer

"Everyone Left"

I've seen my words carved in the arms of a stranger as they let me know they watched their love die, but picked it up later when they found that rope. Some say you need to bleed to believe in hurt. Some say you have to scare to belong to her.

~ I'll live alone and find my peace. I will slip into a coma; found somewhere north of Florida, but just south of Tennessee. 'Cause the sun I finally reached it, give me reason to move on now, but there's something in this heart I lost somehow.
