Counting down the days until
We stop the counting the change
Life's been and inhaler and cigarettes
Fighting for pocket space

Who said you're better on your own
Must've never really felt alone

Shy eyes are burning now
Because they finally see the sun
Is your life playing out to an audience of none?
I've gone so far away and I'm gonna leave them
stunned
Time spent and common sense is gonna get this done

Boiling under, reducing pest
Telling me to stay
Life's been adding miles and placing bets
Keeping me away

Who said you're better on your own
Must've really never felt alone

Shy eyes are burning now
Because they finally see the sun
Is your life playing out to an audience of none?
I've gone so far away and I'm gonna leave them
stunned
Time spent and common sense is gonna get this done

Who said? Who said? Who said you're better on your own?
You said! You said! You said you're better on your own!
