Like a ghost train coming
Or a pistol to the back.
You've changed your mind one more time
Leaving blood on the tracks

And I won't care to take
Nothing more or nothing less
You never, never, never, never tried
From the start of it

The heartache
It's always there
It's always there

Like the rain the summer prays for
You just came too late
I'm not waiting for the crop to turn
I need something on my plate

I won't care to take
Nothing more or nothing less
You never, never, never, never tried
To make more of it

The heartache
It's always there
It's always there

I won't care to take
Nothing more or nothing less
You never, never, never, never tried
From the start of it

The heartache
It's always there
It's always there
