I wann be taken back
To when my life began
When my fire burned with passion
And my heart poured out it's song for you
I wanna be in your warm embrace
I wanna feel your touch again
The moment I died and let my spirit subside
And I felt you make my life begin

You opened up our eyes
You answered all our cries
We woke up new the day
So lets sing those songs of yesterday
We're consumed with a new fire
We found a new desire
When there's nothin left to say
The we'll sing those songs of yesterday

If I could turn back the hands of time
If I could make the clock stand still
I'd seize that very moment
When you made my cup overflow
Instill in me a righteous heart
And a soul that yearns for you
Give me a passion that's everlasting
And make my life sew seeds of truth.
