Seasons change and lessons get learned
It's been awhile but my heart burns
It says I still want you

And that's all I'll do
Spend my time just
Thinking about you
Says I still want you

The car we bought together
Just started to rust
The world we made
Came between the two of us
I still want you

When the day was through
We drive through town
My arm around you
Says I still want you

I tried so hard
Just to fill your cup
I tried so hard
Just to fill it up

But you only drift away
You drift away
Now you only drift away
You drift away

I hear the rain coming down
The leaves start to fall
I hear your voice
I remember it all
Says I still want you

And that's all I'll do
Spend my life just
Thinking about you
Says I still want you

I tried so hard

Tried to fill your cup
I tried so hard
Just to fill it up

But you only drift away
You drift away

And, baby, I still want you
I still want you
I said I still want you
