(Chorus)

Your the only one
You make my life complete
If I was ever to lose you
I'd be losing everything

Your the only one
You make my life complete
If I was ever to lose you (if I was ever to lose you girl)
I'd be losing everything

I think the day that I met you heaven opened up the skies
And sent me an angel to change my life
Cause ever since that day I aint never been the same
Just to stand next to you is like is like a rush for me
I still remember one cold night when I confessed
And I would go crazy just to have one kiss
The more that I see you the more you penetrate my soul
With your eyes dreaming every night
What my days would be like if I could love you forever
To hear your pretty voice say that we belong together
Maybe to have you is like a million to one
But to me the truth is to me girl

(Chorus)

Your the only one
You make my life complete
If I was ever to lose you
I'd be losing everything

Your the only one
You make my life complete
If I was ever to lose you (I told you I never want to lose you girl)
I'd be losing everything

I never want to make you cry girl keep that on your mind
When you need somebody more than just a friend I'm on your side

To hold you close when your nights get cold
To remind you everyday that your so beautiful
I kno that sometimes life is just not fair
So when it rains in your heart Ima be right there
You see life is short and every minute that pass
Is a moment gone forever and it's never coming back It's kinda crazy how time has a way of makin all these memories just fade away
So if theres just one thing you remember bout me
Remember I that love you unconditionally

(Chorus)

Your the only one
You make my life complete

Your the only one
You make my life complete
