It got into me today
Like acid eating me away
You spent all your life on something
Just to burn it down for nothing
It got into me today
So, what are we waiting on?
It's hard just to be around it all
Just don't ask for something more
It's everything but open war,
And now nothing seems to make sense
And we all get so frustrated
Just don't ask for something more
So, what are we waiting on?
It's hard just to be around it all
