Colors fade
Season's changing
Nothing ever stays the same

Feel the cold
the winter's calling
nothing ever stays the same

You can run away
But you cant hide
Eventually it catches up to you

The secrets that we keep inside
Everyone will know
And it will all be okay
Spread your wings and fly away

Shadow fades
Growing older
Nothing ever stays the same
Separate
From the mother
Nothing ever stays the same

Should you run away?
You can't decide
Another way
Now it's up to you

The secrets that you cannot hide
Everyone will know
And it will all be okay
Trust me, beleive me
It was always okay
Spread your wings and fly away
You're flying, flying, you're flying away

Colors fade
Season's changing
Nothing ever stays the same
