We had everything we could have ever wanted
now we're right back here
right back where we started.
what's the deal with this?
how do you deal with that?
we're the lonely broken hearted but we're still standing it's not over.
lights out.
lights out.

is there anybody there?
please show me a sign
just another lonely night to remember
doesn't anybody care?
everything's alright
just another lonely night in november

now we're right back here
right back where we started.
another swing and a miss we're coming under attack just like a slap in the face now we're the lonely broken hearted
but we're still standing it's not over.

is there anybody there?
please show me a sign
just another lonely night to remember
doesn't anybody care?
everything's alright
just another lonely night in november

we all come together brother and sisters united are broken hearts all beat as one bleed as one

is there anybody there?
please show me a sign
just another lonely night to remember
doesn't anybody care?

everything's alright
just another lonely night in november

it's not the first time that this has happened
