Somewhere far off in the night you can hear

The unforgotten

I bid you now to cleanse me pure

As I take this sacred path

Of free thinking and ever changing

To regain control

Oh, spin moon magic

Seeks to invoke your primal self

Oh, silvery glow

There is a fire within the coil

Somewhere close in the dark you can feel

The unforgotten

Draw down the moon

In ancient rites

For common sense and inspiration

Gone is the wall of constraint

She draws down the light

Oh, silvery glow

There is a fire within the coil
